

The Virginia State Bird
"The Cardinal"

(verse)

The State bird is the Cardinal
The State bird is the Cardinal
Named after the Catholic cardinals who dressed in bright red robes

The male Cardinal has a red beak
The male Cardinal has a red beak
The male Cardinal has a red body, red head, red tail and red wings

The female Cardinal is brown
The female Cardinal is brown
They have red beaks and red wings
That you can see when they fly around

The Cardinal is a songbird
The Cardinal is a songbird
The Cardinal has a loud, whistling song
That can be heard

The Cardinal is red and pretty
The cardinal is red and pretty
The Cardinal became the state bird of Virginia in 1950

